100+ PreK Classroom Implementation

Learning alive Plus™ (Classroom engagement)

"Our pre-kindergarten program couldn't be happier with the Learning alive Suite. The Instructional Support team had the opportunity to preview the product last spring. The excitement in the room was tangible as the adults gasped in disbelief and squealed in excitement as the letters actually came to life in front of our very eyes.

From that moment, we knew that we had to bring Learning alive to the hundreds of students, families, and teachers that we serve. This we did in September of 2017. The program supports both literacy and math exploration and learning through the appropriate use of technology.

I frequently visit classrooms and nothing makes me happier than seeing children excited about learning. Children are excited about Learning alive. The Learning alive Support Team installed the program onto each teacher's laptop, trained all our instructional staff members, and provided follow-up technical support in an extremely efficient and timely manner. What more could a program ask for?

My Letters alive Journals™ (Family engagement)

"Alive Studios did it again with My Letters alive Journals. The technology is amazing and engaging for students and adults alike. We encouraged teachers to use the journals to bridge the home-school connection, sending journals home with individual students.

This method of implementation really worked for our program. Children were eager to introduce their animal "friends" from school to their parents. Parents were happy to support the work being done in the classroom at home in an educational, easy and fun way. They were also just as excited (if not more) as their children to see the animals come alive on their phones.

We thank Alive Studios and can't wait for new products to share with the children, families, and teachers we support."
