Victor Vulture was so sure that he could do it all.
In his mind he saw himself as standing ten feet tall.
It didn't matter if his friends believed in him at all.
He would try it anyway and have himself a ball!

He tried to soar as high as eagles way up in the sky.
He tried to swim as fast as dolphins when they passed nearby.
There wasn't much that Victor feared.
He was a brave old guy.
His friends could think of nothing Mr. Victor would not try.

He tried to jump like kangaroos and really believed he could.
He tried to roar like lions and it kind of sounded good!
There were some things he should not do,
for this was understood.
But that did not discourage him from trying things he should.

Victor tried all kinds of things each and every day.
He knew that if he didn't all the fun would pass away.
He gathered all his friends around he had some things to say,
"You might think you can't do things, but try them anyway!"
